

2. Endowed professorship in Cancer Biology

Michigan State University in East Lansing, Michigan, invites applications and nominations to fill an endowed, tenured, faculty position in Cancer Biology, to be appointed in one or more of the following Departments: Biochemistry & Molecular Biology, Microbiology & Molecular Genetics, Pharmacology & Toxicology or Physiology.

The Walter F. Patenge Health Sciences Professorship is a laboratory-based, research-oriented position. The individual who fills this position will be appointed as an Associate or Full Professor.

The Patenge Professor will receive: sizable laboratory space, a substantial setup package, the annual interest from the endowment to further the candidate's research and an annual salary from the University, commensurate with the rank of Endowed Professor.

The search for the Patenge Professor will run concurrent with a second search for a tenured/tenure-stream Assistant, Associate or Full Professor, also in Cancer Biology (see below), to be appointed in one or more of the following Departments: Biochemistry & Molecular Biology, Microbiology & Molecular Genetics, Pharmacology & Toxicology or Physiology.

Tenure System, 12 month basis, 100% time.

Salary: $120,000 - $180,000. Salary and rank commensurate with qualifications, degree and experience.

QUALIFICATIONS: Doctorate or other terminal degree. The Patenge Professor will possess a Research and/or Medical Degree (e.g., Ph.D., Sc.D., D.O., M.D. or D.V.M.). Candidates must have backgrounds that demonstrates their ability to work synergistically with both scientific and medical colleagues.

An ideal candidate will possess a superior record of peer-reviewed publications and an outstanding record of funded research in topics related to Human Cancer Biology.

The Patenge Professor will provide energetic leadership and creative direction in building a world-class Cancer Research Program.

APPLICATIONS: Due November 1, 2010. Late submissions will be considered, if a suitable candidate pool is not identified by the deadline.

Applicants should refer to Position 34-862.

Send a letter of application, a detailed Curriculum Vita and a statement of research goals, along with pertinent reprints and contact information for three references (address, email and phone).
